

Chorus in fine voice

THE Bournemouth Symphony Chorus has just returned from a tour of the Czech Republic, which saw them featured on national television.

Hugely successful performances at the Brno International Music Festival and in Prague got the 120-strong chorus into the news and almost certainly guaranteed a return visit.

Works by Bournemouth-born Hubert Parry were among choral pieces performed in Prague and the chorus also gave the first performance in the Czech Republic of Richard Blackford's Mirror of Perfection.

The choir is now preparing for the Verdi Requiem, which will take place at Poole Lighthouse on Wednesday October 29.
